Dear parents!

Children rarely need a lot of instruction in order to assemble two figures according to their own imagination. This is a puzzle that tells its own tale. It may be helpful if parents first explain to younger players, what each piece of clothing is and what it is called.

Your children will soon be able to put together the figures without any help and dress them according to their own taste. Fantasy has no limits!

The fewer rules and limits there are during the game, the better it will promote your child's creativity and linguistic fluency – both when playing within a group and when creating his or her own miniature fashion world alone.

Look at this!

Our little models want to dress-up. The complete puzzle consists of seven pieces. There are several versions of some pieces of clothing, making 18 garments altogether, so you can dress the two models differently each time. Try a few combinations – there are so many possibilities!

Have fun!
